Gender module (G & H variables)

Gender module has been developed by the WVS team at the Institute for Future Studies in Sweden and the team of the Karolinska Institute in Sweden. Two versions of the module have been applied in Nigeria and Ethiopia and Zimbabwe. The surveys have been supported by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation. The module might be also applied in few more Sub-Saharan African countries and in India with the data to be available in 2021. The is not a part of the WVS-7 cross-country dataset but is available in the national data-files for Nigeria, Ethiopia and Zimbabwe.

Country-specific education levels (Q275A, Q276A, Q277Q, Q278A)

Country-specific education levels – highest education level attained by the respondent; spouse; mother; father – are coded using scales provided by the national survey teams. Subsequent versions of the WVS data-set might include further updates. Countries surveyed, but not listed here means: the national team made a choice to use only international ISCED-2011 classification (coded in variables Q275, Q276, Q277, Q278).

Racial and ethnic belonging (Q290)

This question is country-specific which includes both levels of the characteristic (coding either race or ethnic belonging depending on the country) and the adaptation of the scale by each survey team. Races are coded using single cross-country scale while for ethnicity every country proposed their own scale. Subsequent versions of the WVS data-set might include further updates.
